

CURRENT AS BALL COMMENT

TUESDAY'S SCHEDULE.
Pittsburg at St. Louis.
Chicago at Cincinnati.
Boston at Philadelphia.
New York at Brooklyn.

The variety of opinions concerning the prowess of "Wee Willie" Sudhart as a pitcher is extensive and conforms in numbers to the number of commentators. According to expressed views by men competent to distinguish between good, bad and indifferent in baseball, Willie is all three of these degrees in his profession. Some say Willie is a wonder, and from this high position he trails on downward, according to the various ideas of him, until in the minds of some he is a mere underdog to a "dub." Willie was the star of Sunday's game to the minds of some, and to the amateur critic it appeared he did very well. He was a trifle with his gift of first base, but after all he was only hit half a dozen times and he yielded like a thoroughbred. Yet it was said at the time that his pitched balls came up big as a house and that really there was no visible reason why the Chicago men did not batter them up to Grand avenue. It appeared that way, too, and yet the bats were kept within park limits.

It is a matter of history that Willie has been battered hard and probably he will be again. But so long as he wins a fair percentage of games there should be but one opinion about him—that he is worth his salary.

Bernard Wefers, the St. Louis baseball team's new acquisition, promises to be a valuable man, even though he may never get in the game. Manager Donovan has induced the great sprinter to give the men of the team some pointers on running and expects that great improvement will result in their base-running ability. The idea of having Wefers coach the team in running was suggested by a chance remark he fell while watching Heldrick run. He said that player would be much faster if he would change his style. Manager Donovan took the cue from that and Wefers in the future will make sprinters of the Cardinals.

Wefers has not had a chance to show what he can do in the baseball suit. He will be allowed to get into thorough form before he is permitted to play. If he can be coached into a batter, he will surely make good.

A conspiracy of weather clerks in different parts of the country prevented the playing of three National League games scheduled for Monday afternoon. At St. Louis, Chicago and New York nothing was doing, as the heavens wept. So did the eager fans. At Philadelphia, though, the grandstand and the meteorological conditions were anything but favorable to baseball. The Philadelphia and the Philadelphia's fought out their third game, the Phillies finally winning a victory by a score of 3 to 2.

Locally nothing could be done at League Park without the aid of Paul Houton's suits, and as Manager Donovan has neglected to provide his men with this necessity no game was played.

Owing to the flood now prevailing in the region of Pittsburgh was feared Monday that the games at the Smoky City would be played between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Pirates would have to be transferred to this city. Exposition Park grounds were reported submerged completely and the conditions did not seem to be moderating. The water has receded, according to the reports, and the fall continues it will leave the grounds high and dry in time for the field to be shaped up for the regular game.

The local fans were pulling hard for the series to be transferred, but will have to give up the idea unless another flood occurs.

When the team goes to Pittsburgh Mr. Ryan, promising catcher, will be of the bunch. Ryan hurt his thumb in a recent contest and has since been out of the game. His injury is about well and he should be in the game Friday or Saturday. Ryan has made something of a hit, and with Nicholas as pitcher, should make a reliable trio for the department concerning which so many fears were entertained at the opening of the season.

SMITH ROUGHLY HANDLED.
American Pugilist's Skull Cracked in a Bout in London.

LONDON, April 22.—The condition of "Billy" Smith, the American pugilist, who was knocked out in the eighth round of a contest at the National Sporting Club last night with Jack Roberts for the 125-pound championship of England, and who was removed unconscious to a hospital, was slightly improved at 11 o'clock today morning.

In spite of Smith's slight rally, the surgeons take the most serious view of his condition. At 1 o'clock Tuesday morning he was still unconscious from concussion of the brain.

A Description of the Goods.

An Evolution in Ladies' Neckwear.

The passing of the Linen Collar for ladies and the substitution of the embroidery and lace turn-over collar in its place:

For the past twelve months, slowly at first, but now with rapid strides, the turn-over Embroidery and Lace Collars have been taking the place of the Linen Collars. For morning wear, for street costumes, riding, driving, golfing, etc.; also for the hosts of women in professional and business life, when attending to their different pursuits.

The turn-over collars are replacing the linen on account of their beauty and usefulness. The linen collar is hard and severe, making a woman look man-like, not soft and pleasing as every woman desires especially to look, no matter what her avocation or place in life.

It is true, we get our fashions in Paris, but Paris was taught a severe lesson during the Spanish-American war, and its shopkeepers and fashion makers learned that they could not live without the American trade, so Paris now creates fashions to suit the American woman.

The stock-collar, so long in vogue, and now even more pronounced than ever, is distinctly a creation suited to the American lady, the young American woman. The girl of the stylish set today is tall, graceful, with a swan-like neck. She is unlike her English or German cousins, who are, as a rule, of a shorter and stouter build. The stock-collar is peculiarly adapted to her style, the first consideration with an American woman, the second being softness and beauty.

The stock-collar needs something to tone it down, and give to the neck a softness and grace that nothing else can do except the turn-over collar.

Then again, the little turn-over collar saves the stock or ribbon around the neck from perspiration or soiling, so that it combines the two great requisites which make it a seller on the retail counter:

First—Beauty and Fashion.

Second—Usefulness.

At first these collars were made out of pieces of embroidery with mitred corners in the front, or out of hand-drawn hemstitched mull. These latter were very expensive, and only within the reach of the few, retailing at 50c to $1.25 each. These mitred corners were unsightly and ripped open in the laundry.

A member of a New York firm, who were selling agents for large St. Gall manufacturers of Swiss Embroideries, remembered an old 6-4 machine used twenty years ago in their St. Gall factories, but now cast aside in the garret. Being a practical manufacturer, he knew the collar could be made without the mitred corners on these machines, SEAMLESS, one piece, which would give a finished effect over a band, ribbon or stock, in the front. Drawings were made and sent to the manufacturers, with the result that this collar is now in demand and produced in such quantities that beautiful designs and patterns, like and similar to the ones shown in these cuts, can be produced and retailed at a fair profit for manufacturer, jobber and retailer for 10 cents and 19 cents each, which brings them within the reach of all, and establishes them as a STAPLE article on the retail counter.

gradually perished. Wittmer's star was setting, and went down a few seconds later. The Turk, however, neither man had secured a fall and the match was declared a draw. Adamson is considered one of the best men in the business. Rooney, the giant policeman who challenged the winner of the Jenkins-Rohrer match, was unable to secure a fall from him in a recent match.

WITTMER WILL TRY AGAIN
Immediately After Monday Night's Match He Challenged Nourouh-lah to a Match.

Nourouh-lah, Martin Julian's wrestling protégé, entered his first real fray in America Monday night at the Exposition Coliseum by defeating Charles Wittmer of Cincinnati in two straight falls, occupying five minutes actual wrestling time.

Immediately after the match Wittmer made the customary statement that he was willing to meet Nourouh-lah again, in Greco-Roman style. Martin Julian, after a short consideration, accepted on behalf of his protégé. No details of the match have been arranged. The match is not likely to occur for some weeks as Nourouh-lah has one engagement ahead of him with Jenkins, May 7.

The affair of Monday night was hardly a match. It was a meeting. Wittmer had not skill enough to avoid the Turk, nor strength to resist him. Even the five minutes of time occupied was spent largely in holding for holds which, once secured by the Oriental, rapidly turned into falls.

SIEBERMAN SCORED NINETY

After an Evening of Slow Playing in the Granite-Cosmos Match, He Finished Brilliantly.

In a match between the Granites and the Cosmos of the Central Cockey-Hat league, Monday night, Sieberman of the latter team made the possible score, 90. The trick was turned in the last game and was chiefly responsible for the victory in that contest—the only one of the five that his side was able to win. At that, Sieberman's average was but a little over 50. His best score, previous to the 90 game, was 67, when a team was made the better and, but for the big game would have totaled a comfortable advantage over their opponents. As it was, but 20 runs separated the two teams. The work of both Bodenman and Owerp of the Granites was above average that of Sieberman, the former averaging 58 and the latter 56.

Team averages: Granites 49.25; Cosmos, 48.75.

GEORGE BAPTISTE ACCEPTS.

Local Middle-Weight Wrestler Declines Forfeit to Meet Adamson.

George Baptiste, the local middleweight wrestler, has accepted the challenge of Ed.
Adamson of Louisville to meet in a catch-as-catch-can match, Adamson's challenge was announced Sunday and Monday.

Baptiste covered the forfeit money.
The date of the match has not been positively decided upon yet, but Baptiste suggested May 4. Adamson having expressed in his letter a willingness to leave that part of the arrangements to the local man.

The contest will be decided in three falls, and will be for a side bet of $250. St. Louis is named as the place.

The two men have met before, but after a three-hour struggle neither man had secured a fall and the match was declared a draw. Adamson is considered one of the best men in the business. Rooney, the giant policeman who challenged the winner of the Jenkins-Rohrer match, was unable to secure a fall from him in a recent match.

PLANS PUBLIC BATHS

NEW PRESIDENT OF THE B. P. I.
HAS AN IDEA.

WOULD ESTABLISH SEVERAL

Mr. Phillips Will Make This One of the Features of His Administration for Public Good.

A system of public bath houses, to be distributed among all sections of the city, is planned by President Hiram Phillips of the Board of Public Improvements.

The only proposition of this kind now pending is that made by the North St. Louis Improvement Association for a bath house on the waterworks property at the foot of Grand avenue. Mr. Phillips plans to make more extensive, and will be placed before the public in definite form, he says, as soon as the work of his administration has fairly commenced.

"All the plans for bath houses along the river and at the waterworks station are good as far as they go," said President Phillips, "but what the city needs is a general system of bath houses which shall afford these facilities to the public in every section."

"My plan is for public natatoriums, with showers, baths attached. The city would need five or six of these, and two or three could be located along the river. The others would have to be supplied by the waterworks, as the private natatoriums are now. Their area would have to be much greater than that of any private natatorium now in use."

"I shall endeavor to make the introduction of this system a feature of my administration. There is a general public demand for such facilities, and they should not be confined to the accomplishment of other needed public improvements."

Plans were recently drawn up by Water Commissioner Edw. Fied for a large public bathing pavilion at the Russell Point station of the waterworks. The pavilion would be located on city property, the city would be at no expense for land in this case.

WAR ROMANCE CULMINATES.

Miss Lizzie White Weds a Soldier
From the Philippines.

A romance which began three years ago, when troops were being mobilized at Chick-amauga, culminated Monday afternoon in the marriage at Clayton of Lizzie White, a 16-year-old schoolgirl of East St. Louis, and Ernest A. de Bell, late of the Philippines.

The youthful bride is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph White of 1209 Walnut street, East St. Louis, whose first intuition of the wedding was the following telegram, received Sunday evening:

You need not worry now. We are married and happy, and in 15 minutes will be on our way to Chicago. ERNEST.

Mrs. White at once hastened to the marriage license office in East St. Louis, but no license has been issued there. She then telegraphed all the neighboring county clerks, but by the time her message reached Clayton it was too late to prevent the marriage.

The ceremony was performed by J. B.
Brouster, county judge. De Bell said his home was at 230 Market street.
Mrs. White said she knew but little of De Bell and had never seen him. He met her daughter at the Relay depot in East St. Louis, while a member of the Third Illinois Volunteers, en route to the south.
He cut a brass button from his coat and gave it to her, while she gave him her name and address. They have corresponded regularly since.

De Bell was subsequently a member of the Fifth United States Cavalry, stationed at Fort Bill, I. T. On the organization of the new volunteer regiments he joined the Thirtieth United States Infantry and went to the Philippines. He is supposed to be about 20 years of age.

ST. LOUIS DELEGATION LARGEST AMONG KINDERGARTEN TEACHERS AT INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION

Miss Mary E. McCulloch, Supervisor of the Kindergarten System, Has Called a Special Meeting of the Teachers for Tuesday Afternoon.

Miss Mary E. McCulloch, supervisor of the kindergarten system of the St. Louis public schools, has called a meeting of all the kindergarten teachers for Tuesday afternoon at the Crow Kindergarten at Bell and Channing avenues.

At this meeting reports will be read from the delegates to the recent convention of the International Kindergarten Union at Chicago, and Miss McCulloch will also relate her impressions of the kindergartens and other schools of Chicago and Milwaukee, which she visited.

Miss McCulloch, who returned to St. Louis Sunday night, said to the Post-Dispatch:
"St. Louis had the largest representation at the convention of any city in the country. We had 17 kindergartens from St. Louis and other schools of Chicago and Milwaukee, which she visited."

Loss of Appetite

Is Loss of Vitality, Vigor, Tone.

That stands to reason.

It's common in the Spring when the blood, which needs cleansing, fails to give the organs the stimulus necessary for the proper performance of their functions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cleanses the blood, restores appetite, gives vitality, vigor, tone—this is one of the reasons why it's called the Greatest Spring Medicine.

Accept no substitute.

"I used Hood's Sarsaparilla for two members of my family—in one case for loss of appetite and general weakness, and in the other for deep sores on the hands, knees and feet. In the first case one bottle was taken and in the last four and both persons are now hearty and healthy." Mrs. Nora Conway, 510 E.
Vest St., Marshall, Mo.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

BABY BURIED ALIVE

SPECTATOR RESCUED THE CHILD FROM TERRIBLE DEATH.

VICTIM OF ITS OWN MOTHER

She and Her Uncle Were Covering It With Earth When Scared Away.

NEW YORK, April 23.—The charge of having attempted to bury alive the 2-week-old baby of the girl, is placed against Frances Spinello, an Italian woman, 18 years old, and Silvio Buticav-elo. They were arrested by the police of Yonkers yesterday afternoon. The man is the uncle of the girl.

The baby was found in a hole, saw the man and woman digging in the soft clay near the tracks of the New York Central river at Hastings-on-the-Hudson, this afternoon. Both seemed excited, and when McAvoy approached them they ran away.
As he approached the spot he heard the faint cries of an infant, and saw the hem of a white garment protruding from the earth. He tore away the muddy soil and uncovered the infant. The child was growing black in the face, but quickly revived when the fresh air touched it.

The baby was fully dressed. McAvoy scraped the clay from its face and chest and rushed to a drug store with his burden.
Here the baby was given necessary attention and was soon all right. A hatchet was found on Buticavelo, which was covered in a charge of attempted infanticide, and turned over to the Hastings authorities. Later they were held for the grand jury and taken to the White Plains county jail.

The man is the girl's uncle. He admitted having a wife and three children. It is believed that the man is the boy's father.
The child was turned over to Postmaster Mills of Hastings, who placed it in the care of the janitress of the kindergarten school.

REV. MILTON GOTT RESIGNS.

Leaves Methodist Church Before Committee Investigates Charges.

Rev. Milton B. Gott resigned Monday as a preacher of the Methodist Episcopal church, and his resignation was accepted by the weekly meeting of the St. Louis preachers of that denomination.

The resignation of Rev. Gott abruptly ended the labors of a committee, consisting of Revs. Daniel Dorchester, S. B.
Warner and H. L. Steves, which had been appointed to investigate charges against Gott. Those charges, which had been formally presented, accused Mr. Gott of administering the sacraments of baptism and marriage without ordination.

Rev. Gott is a Missourian and a student of the present stockholders at Fayette. He came to St. Louis after leaving the college and served for a time as assistant of the downtown branch of the Y. M.
C. A. In 1888 he became interested in Union Mission at 1439 Franklin avenue and was placed in charge by Dr. Caradine of the Southern Methodist Church. In 1897 Rev.
Mr. Gott took out a local preacher's license from the Methodist Church. It was renewed for four years. His connection with the church expired in March. During this time he had been unsuccessful in attempting to enter the ministry. About a year ago Rev. Mr. Gott was ordained by Bishop H. S. Hanley of the World's Free Mission Society, with headquarters at Reno, Wash., D. C.
